

Pete Emmett

A fresh and relatively new comedian, Pete is often described as a “thin” Johnny Vegas! Original clever comedy, clean but suited to mainstream audiences, Pete is currently making his name on the after dinner circuit.

His real talent is personalising the act to suit each event and ensuring that characters from the room are included in the show (without offence of course!) and delivering a dry, dead pan speech to the audience.

Pete has worked alongside many of the ‘big names’ on the circuit and some of the friendships he has formed with the nation’s most prominent sportsmen are testament to his personality. He is an ideal person for sportsmen’s dinners, benefit dinners, testimonials or events to recognise sporting achievements. Pete is a very funny and competent Master of Ceremonies.

Extremely professional in his approach, he is instantly likeable and has a great rapport with his audience thanks to his dry sense of humour and witty ‘off the cuff’ remarks which are delivered in a unique but non-offensive manner.

One of the hardest working comperes on the circuit, he will personalise his act to suit the function. Be it a sports dinner, corporate event or charity function, he will make the night run smoothly and also excel in raising funds through auctions, games and wacky ideas.

Pete has an excellent sporting knowledge having worked in sports journalism for a number of years. This knowledge has led to him hosting major sporting events where his interviewing style guarantees intriguing questions and plenty of humorous banter.

Comedian, Speaker, Comperer & Comedy Writer

“Pete is a hilarious comedian who I have seen in action on many occasions. He is a very likeable and talented young man who can alter his act to suit the audience, a rare talent indeed. His ‘This is your life’ for me was so funny but also very moving and something I’ll always remember. It’s nice to listen to a comedian who can make people laugh without being rude or offensive”.

Mike Stevo Stevenson , Sky Sports Commentator

"Pete is a hilarious host, using very funny and original material. He can sense the mood of an audience and interacts in a fun, engaging but sensitive way, putting them at ease and never giving offence."

"Being from Halifax, he has a particular rapport with Yorkshire audiences. We have always found him very co-operative and adaptable, respecting our needs and establishing the tone we require for any particular event we have run."

"Audiences will always have an enjoyable time with Pete. He will help any event go with a light-hearted swing and loads of laughter. An evening with Pete is a guaranteed success."

Simon Copley, Fundraising Manager, Hollybank Trust

After Dinner Speakers & Comedians Ltd – 0845 475 8866

www.comedians.co.uk

pete@comedians.co.uk