

Barry York

One of the most versatile comedy entertainers we handle, Barry York has certainly built up a reputation as the ideal act for almost any situation.

A stand up comedian, Barry began his professional career fronting a “showgroup” who incorporated comedy and music. Barry has worked as a solo artiste for 20 years and has concentrated purely on comedy for the past 10 years.

Barry works predominantly in the after dinner market where his clean, yet “cheeky” act, combined with his sharp wit are a match for all audiences, whether mixed, or all male. The sportsman’s dinner environment, where he particularly excels, has seen Barry work alongside some of the biggest names on the circuit.

As a master of ceremonies, Barry is equally at home. His clear and easy to understand voice makes him an ideal corporate host, yet his wit and charm lend his style to more laid back events, where the audience may become a little restless! Recently Barry hosted the Caudwell Group Annual Awards Dinner to 2800 people. A daunting prospect to many, yet Barry was unfazed.

“His act was very clean, nothing offensive was said....very professional and entertaining. We would not hesitate in using him again.” – Calverley Utd Ex players – age range – 20-65, mixed.

“just a quick note to say many thanks for your excellent speech last Tuesday...” - Malton & Norton Round Table

“A huge thank you for your professional services at our awards night in January...Everyone had a superb evening. I know from bitter experience that our guests have seen off at least one top named entertainer and made others wish they were somewhere else. By saying that I want to emphasise what a good job you did. You provided the perfect style required to make the events swing, proffering well timed introductions and subtle humour for our speakers and Lenny Henry.” - 20:20 Logistics

“We were very pleased with Barry’s performance. Our clients comprised a mixture of senior trade union officials and local MP’s. There were also a significant number of females in the audience. Barry was received very well and we were particularly pleased at his sensitive choice of material which included no racist humour or bad language. Barry produced a repertoire of politically correct but extremely humorous stand up comedy.” Mr J Mullen, Rowley Ashworth Solicitors
